Healthy Habits

There are many ways to stay active while staying physically and socially distanced from others.

Try going for a walk as a family, play in the snow or perhaps do a dance together.

There is always a certain amount of fear and discomfort when trying something new.

It helps to remind your child that they do not need to be the best or fastest, but instead, should do their best to enjoy and learn from their chosen activity.

Special Days

How Does Learning Happen?

In Preschool 2 we strive to provide a language-rich environment which aligns with HDLH's foundation of Expression.

Expression or communication (to be heard, as well as to listen) may take many different forms. Through their bodies, words, and use of materials, children develop capacities for increasingly complex communication. (HDLH ,P.8)
