

Did you know?

January 27th is National Literacy Day. There are many benefits of exposing children to books early on in life such as Promoting early speech and language, general knowledge, cognition, and fine motor skills.

Classroom news

We really enjoy having the children participate in show and tell. They all seem to enjoy telling us about what they brought from home. Our goal is to continue providing opportunities for this kind of engagement. There are so many opportunities to build on their social and emotional skills while speaking in front of their educators and peers.

Important Days

1st– New Year’s Day

14th- Orthodox New Year’s

27th – National Literacy Day – Bring a book to share

Try This at Home

Toronto Public Libraries offer several programs as well as the opportunity to check out books at no cost to you. If you haven’t done so already, you can check out the online reading programs offered by the Toronto Public Library here <https://kids.tpl.ca/ready-for-reading/programs>

Song of the Month

(to the tune of Wheels on the bus)

These Mittens on my hands keep me warm, keep me warm, keep me warm

These Mittens on my hands keep me warm all winter long!
